

I'm a motivated and adaptable professional with strengths in communication, problem solving, collaboration, time management, and continuous learning. I'm guided by my values of adhering to laws and protecting organizations, I'm committed to fostering cross-team communication, ensuring compliance, and responding proactively to evolving cyber threats. My interest in cybersecurity stems from a passion for solving problems, protecting people and organizations, and contributing to a high-demand field with meaningful career impact.